THE OIL TRUST FEARS FARMERS

Panel of Veniremen Quashed Because of Them.

ONLY THREE CHICAGOANS ON

Court Will Hear Argument as to Whether Shipments or Settlements of Freight Charges Constitute Offense—Could Be Fined $10,000,000 Under First Construction.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—The retrial of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana was unexpectedly delayed when Judge Anderson in the United States district court quashed the panel of 150 veniremen because of what he considered the singularly large proportion of farmers thereon.

It was a so-called "farmers" jury which brought in the verdict making Judge Landis' fine of $29,240,000 in the original case possible, and John S. Miller, of the defense, was prompt in calling the court's attention to the fact that the panel then presented for the new trial contained by three Chicagoans, although 60 per cent of the population within the jurisdiction of the court lives within Cook county.

"It looks like design, or if not design, it looks like a strange coincidence," commented Judge Anderson, whereupon T. C. McMillan and R. C. Jones, the jury commissioners, insisted with vigor that the latter was the case; that the panel had been drawn exactly as in other cases. This the court later admitted to be a fact.

District Attorney Sims and his special assistant, James H. Wilkerson, quoted authorities to show that all a defendant can legally claim is a fair trial and an honest and intelligent jury to try his case. Mr. Wilkerson declared that the jury did not need to represent every portion of a judicial district. "I don't want to start in with this hearing feeling that there is something unfair," answered the court. "We ought to start fair and keep fair. I think this panel ought to be set aside. I will instruct the jury commission to put in 150 names of men, a good proportion of whom shall be good business men from Chicago and Cook county."

On motion of Mr. Miller, Judge Anderson said he would hear arguments of counsel as to whether shipments or settlements of freight charges constitute the offense. The government will contend that each shipment of oil on which an alleged rebate was paid forms a separate violation of the law. Under this construction of the law it would be possible to fine the defendant, if found guilty, a maximum of $10,000,000. There were, it is charged, thirty-six settlements of freight charges on these shipments. Accepting this view, a maximum fine of $720,000 is possible.

The jury commission was ordered to produce the new panel tomorrow.

Hazleton detectives were in town looking for him, and he determined to end his life. He purchased a pistol, but he says his nerve failed him and he decided to bear the law's punishment for his offenses.

SEVEN KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

Express on Delaware Railroad Crashes Into Locomotives.

THE DEAD ARE TRAINMEN

Blame For Collision Is Placed Upon Fireman of Locomotive, Who Neglected to Flag the Express—Princess Trixie, the Famous Trick Horse, Killed.

Delmar, Del., Feb. 23.—The first section of the night express for Norfolk over the Delaware railroad was wrecked here in a collision and seven men were killed.

The dead are: Oliver Perry, Adams Express messenger, Philadelphia; J. D. McCready, baggage master, Wilmington, Del.; George Davis, engine man, Seaford, Del.; W. T. Corkran, mail clerk, Philadelphia; J. W. Wood, mail clerk, Wilmington; R. M. Davis, mail clerk, Philadelphia; F. L. Wilhelm, mail weighman, New Castle, Del.

The collision occurred in the railway yard. The train was heavily laden with passengers bound for the naval review at Hampton Roads, and after several hours' delay a fresh train was made up and the passengers were sent on to their destination.

The express, No. 49, crashed into two locomotives standing on the main track. All three locomotives were derailed, and a combination baggage and mail car and a baggage car of the passenger train caught fire.

The two locomotives standing in the yard were there to take a train. Neither had a crew at the time. The two locomotives were standing on the main track. What they were doing on that track at the time the express was due there has not yet been explained. The engineer of the express did not see the locomotives until too late, and notwithstanding that he reversed his lever and did all possible to avoid a collision, the heavy train crashed into the two locomotives with great force.

Superintendent A. G. Whitney said that the wreck was caused by the neglect of the fireman on the rear engine. It was his duty, the superintendent said, to have gone back and flag the approaching express, but this he neglected to do.

"Princess Trixie," the educated mare carried by a theatrical company, was killed. She probably was the most widely known trained animal exhibited in recent years. "Trixie," from a standpoint of intelligence, was almost human. She distinguished one color from another, gave imitations of worn out horses and proud horses, showing the difference in their gaits, was able to add and subtract, and even spelled words correctly.

DIES FROM BURNS

Boy Tried to Save His Little Sister's Life.

Camden, N. J., Feb. 23.—John Sidebottom, eight years old, died from burns received in the vain effort to save the life of his six-year-old sister. The little girl's dress caught fire while she was playing in the kitchen of their home last Friday, and John was badly burned trying to beat out the fire. The girl died that day.

The mother of the children, who has been very ill, heard their screams, but she knows nothing of the death of her children, and thinks they are both alive in the hospital. Her condition is serious and it is feared the true knowledge will kill her.

MAD DOG BITES FAMILY

Six Sent to New York For Pasteur Treatment.

Erie, Pa., Feb. 23.—Six members of one of the most prominent families in Erie have been bitten by a pet Boston terrier, which was found to be affected with rabies. The injured are: Mrs. P. H. Adams and her daughters Sarah, Susan and Helen, her son, Griswold, and a maid. A specialist from New York decided that the animal was affected, had it killed, and examination of the brain confirmed his fears. Many other dogs were bitten by it before it was killed.

Big Check Swindle Unearthed.

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 23.—Chris Holland, who is under arrest in Philadelphia, attempted to get from local banks and two express companies the sum of $108,500, according to the police of this city. There was deposited here in nine different banks $90,000 of alleged spurious checks, supposed to have been issued from the Third National bank of Philadelphia.

THE ACADEMY MINSTRELS.

Welcomed by a Large House and Score Big Success.

The second annual appearance of the Academy minstrels at Garman's opera house Tuesday evening, Feb 23 d. drew a packed house and scored a big success. Wasn't it fine? Didn't the boys do well? and such like comments were heard on all sides as the immense audience of Bellefonte's most fashionable people filed out at the conclusion of the performance. It was noticeable, too, that they spoke in that tone of voice which indicates surprise and as if they meant it.

The unstinted praise was well merited for there was not a dull moment in the program, nor a participant in the entire performance who failed in his part. The audience was appreciative to a high degree and manifested it by their hearty applause.

The scene that presented itself, when the curtain first went up was very beautiful indeed. The decorations were very handsome and tasty and the boys in their fancy costumes presented a great appearance. In the centre was the interlocuter, Mr. A. J. Sloop who performed his part to perfection introducing the numbers very gracefully. There were eight end men and they had their parts down fine, the jokes were good, the singing excellent and the audience was constantly in an uproar at the witty jokes and sayings. The two little pages Edward Powell and Benjamin Sitnek looked pretty and graceful.

The end men were J. J. South, Paul McCandless, James Miller, Benson Drake W. D. Crooks, Gilbert Myers, Harry Wright, Arthur Fisher. In the overture such melodies were introduced as "My Araby," "Oriental Rose," "The Shadows of the Pyramid," "In Far Off China" "My Tom, Tom Girl," "My Filipino Pet" and concluding with the oriental serenade of Titzan. Christy Smith's full orchestra of twelve pieces accompanied the singing.

All the boys acquitted themselves splendidly but special mention should be made of J. J. South who certainly possesses talent as an end man. His singing and dancing were also fine. He sang "I am going to get myself a Black Salome," "Ever Loving Spoony Sam" and other songs.

W. D. Crooks with his tamborine, singing and jokes was also a top notcher and his singing of "Dusky Salome" "Booloo Eyes" and "In the Right Church but the Wrong Pew" brought forth hearty encores. He has a good voice and knows how to handle it.

Paul McCandless gave a very clever irish song entitled "Sullivan" which made a hit and established him as a favorite.

Hugh Sterling in his costume songs, one an Arab song and the other representing an aged colored man were well rendered. He has a well cultivated voice although not as strong as one would like.

We now come to Gilbert Myers, always a favorite, who sang "I'm Looking for a Sweetheart" and he seemed to find one in Miss Margaret Garman, who sang the response from the gallery. They received a hearty encore which was well deserved.

In the olio there was star, buck and wing dancing by that clever dancer Pete Ryan, who would make some professionals take a back seat at this kind of work.

Then followed the Indian Club swinging by Mr. Fish, of Lock Haven, whose work with the clubs is indeed marvelous and performed with perfect grace and ease.

The whole show concluded with a side-splitting farce entitled "The Booster Club from Blackville."

The entire show was under the musical direction of Prof. Sherwood E. Hall, who deserves a large measure of credit for the careful way the boys were trained, everything passing off without a hitch of any kind. Prof. Hall is certainly a marvel in this kind of work. Taken altogether it was a delightful show from start to finish and reflects credit on the Academy and its students.

Both Feet Burned Off.

Pending the arrival of a pair of new wooden limbs, James Hugh, jr., of Fairchance, near Uniontown, is being carried about by his friends. Hugh, who has or had two artificial feet, went to sleep near the fire and was awakened by both his wooden feet burning, he having apparently shoved them into the fire while stretching in his sleep. He had a serious time getting the fire extinguished and both his hands were badly burned before he could get the limbs unstrapped and roll out of the fire's way.

$800,000 IN GOLD PAID FLEET'S MEN

Jackies Won't Get Shore Leave Until After Inauguration.

THE VERMONT QUARANTINED

Several Hundred Enlisted Men Whose Terms Have Expired Were Sent Ashore and Immediately Started Homeward—Had the Time of Their Lives In Australia.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 24. — Yesterday was payday in the big battleship fleet, which returned on Monday to home waters. The bluejackets and marines were made happy in the possession of so much ready cash, but there were other things that took away a good deal of the pleasure they felt.

In the first place word went around that the enlisted men of the returning fleet were not to have any shore liberty until after the inaugural of President Taft, in which several thousand of them will participate.

The men on the good conduct rolls had expected to be given permission to enjoy themselves in Norfolk, where the buildings in the business section are decorated with bunting in honor of the fleet's return. A brigade from the battleships will march in a parade in Norfolk on Saturday, but will be sent back to their vessels as soon as this ends.

The Vermont Quarantined.

The officers of the Vermont were an exception. A yellow flag flying from the Vermont's foreyard told the initiated that she had contagious or infectious disease on board.

An enlisted man is under observation in the supposition that he contracted smallpox at Port Said. So nobody was permitted to go ashore from this battleship.

The officers and men of the Vermont, the Kansas and the Minnesota were paid first.

Eight hundred thousand dollars in the shining gold pieces was brought down from Washington in the fleet tender Yankton, which had come home ahead of the battleships. Pay officers with their clerks and yeomen went over to the Yankton from the other vessels, and each was given the requisite amount of coinage done up in bags which the Yankton's pay forces took from three big chests. Everybody was paid in cash.

In forbidding shore leave to the enlised force of the fleet Admiral Sperry made an exception in the case of the Yankton. This little ship served as tender to the bigger vesseds and, in order to keep in touch with them when they were in the many ports visited, she had to start in advance of their sailing dates.

Yankton's Men Ashore.

On that account the Yankton's men saw little of the festivities in the fleet's honor. To compensate them for their hard work and privations, half the Yankton's crew were given shore liberty.

Several hundred bluejackets and marines whose terms of enlistment have expired were sent ashore. Most of them are from the middle west, and, with plenty of money in their pockets, they lost no time in starting homeward.

Officers and enlisted men say that they had the time of their lives in Australia. Without intending to reflect on the entertainment provided for their in other foreign countries, they make it plain that the Australian government and people were foremost in displaying hospitality.

No explanation of the cause for Captain Hamilton M. Hutchins' detachment from the command of the battleship Kearsarge by Rear Admiral Sperry at Gibraltar, nor the reason for his coming home on a passenger steamship has reached the navy department.

'Yama."

Mr. Alfred E. Aarons' announcement that he will present at Garman's opera house in the near future his successful Oriental Musical Comedy, "Yama," should be of interest to those who take enjoyment in a program of light musical offerings interspersed with an abundance of laughs, catchy songs, lively dances and lots of pretty girls. Mr. J. Clarence Harvey who made such a distinct hit as the Mayor in "His Honor the Mayor" company, is the principal comedian, supported by a capable company of fifty people including Miss Violet Colby and Alfred E. Aarons Original Dancing Dolls and Mr. Aarons' reputation, as a Producer of musical comedy, should in itself be a guarantee of the high order of both company and production.

LEWIS C. RERICK.

On Friday evening about ten minutes of eight o'clock L. C. Rerick, a well known and highly respected citizen of this place died at his home on Reynolds Avenue after an extended illness of paralysis. He had been a patient sufferer for over a year although the end came rather suddenly.

The deceased was born in Benner township, August 16th 1845, and was the son of Daniel and Polly Rerick, long since deceased. He received an excellent education and for fourteen years during the winter season he successfully taught school and held a teacher's certificate used by Prof. J. P. Eickersham, once State Superintendent of schools. Early in life he was made acquainted with the theory and practice of agriculture and became one of the most thorough and skillful farmers of Benner township. He was also interested in a steam thresher.

Mr. Rerick was always a consistent supporter of the democracy and for several years held the office of assessor of Benner township. A few years ago he retired from his farm and moved to Bellefonte locating on Reynolds Avenue where he has since resided.

On October 23 1869 he was married to Miss Lizzie D. Eckley who survives him with the following children: Newton J., Lloyd M., and Will, of Niagara Falls; Edgar, of Williamsport; Mrs. Kenneth A. Snodgrass, of Pittsburg; Harry D., and Mrs. J. Dorsey Hunter, of Bellefonte.

BOXING AT SNOW SHOE.

Three Interesting Bouts Held in Park Pavillion.

In the pavillion at the Snow Shoe Driving park Monday evening three very interesting boxing matches were held in the presence of about 175 people. There were two preliminary bouts that led up to the principal event of the evening. The first was between Andrew Kachik and Andy Chambers and went four rounds to a draw. The next was between Milt Davis and John Daley and was a lively four round go.

The big event of the evening was between Abe Pillington, a professional boxer of Detroit, Michigan, and George Lucas, of Clarence. It was a six round go and was exciting from start to finish but Lucas was no match for Pillington who knocked him down twice in the second round. Lucas however put up a plucky fight and lasted the six rounds. Pillington got the decision on points

Mr. Kelley, a clothing salesman from Philadelphia was referee.

About fifty from Bellefonte attended the boxing show, leaving in a special train at 7 o'clock and returning at 11 o'clock.

PAYING HONOR TO FATHER GEORGE

He Is Not Forgotten In Enthusiasm Over Lincoln.

TODAY A GENERAL HOLIDAY

Observed In Every State In the Union Save Mississippi—There the School Children Remember the First President With Appropriate Exercises. Taft, Hughes, Fort and Others Delivering Addresses Today.

Although the celebration of the centennial of the birth of Lincoln has overshadowed this year the birthday of George Washington, the usual honors are being paid today to the memory of the Father of His Country. As a legal holiday today is far more widely observed than Lincoln day, since the adoption of the latter day as a holiday has not become general in the greater part of the states. Washington's birthday is a legal holiday in every state except Mississippi. There, as elsewhere, the day is observed with exercises in the public schools.

President Elect Taft delivered an address today at the University of Pennsylvania; Governor Fort, of New Jersey, spoke at the annual celebration of the Union League club of Chicago, and Governor Hughes, of New York, was the principal speaker at the winter convocation of George Washington university in the national capital.

THE DAY IN PHILADELPHIA

Taft Delivers Oration at the University of Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia, Feb. 22.—The principal feature of Washington's birthday in this city is the presence of President Elect Taft as the guest of the University of Pennsylvania. Mr. Taft delivered the university day oration in the Academy of Music today and will be the guest of the University of Pennsylvania Alumni society at its annual dinner in the university gymnasium tonight.

For many years Washington's birthday has been a great day in the university's calendar. The orators are chosen among the leading speakers of the nation. Among Mr. Taft's predecessors have been President Roosevelt, President McKinley and the Hon. Joseph H. Choate.

During the ceremonies a cane or walking stick, used by Benjamin Franklin, and given by him to Lafayette, was presented to the university by the president elect.

One of the features of the exercises was the singing by the students of the new university hymn, "Ave Pennsylvania," written especially for the university and dedicated to Provost Harrison by Dr. S. Weir Mitchell.

The honorary degree of doctor of laws was conferred on Professor Felix E. Schelling, of Philadelphia; Charles F. McKim, of New York; Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, of Harrisburg, and John L. Cadwalader, of New York.

The degree of doctor of laws was conferred on Mr. Taft by the university in 1902.

FORT SPEAKS IN CHICAGO

Principal Orator at Washington's Birthday Celebration Today.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—The main features of this city's celebration of Washington's birthday are the two great public mass meetings and the annual banquet of the Union League club.

Governor Fort, of New Jersey, was the principal speaker today at the first of the mass meetings. The other speakers are William Dudley Foulke, the well known Indiana reformer; President Stryker, of Hamilton college, and the Hon. Joseph Willett, of Georgia, one of the leading orators of the south.

Chicago has not permitted its enthusiasm over Lincoln to cause it to forget Father George, and the arrangements for today's celebrations are probably the most elaborate ever made.

IN THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

Crowds Gather at George Washington University to Hear Hughes Today.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Washington's birthday being a legal holiday in the District of Columbia, it is being generally observed in this city. Various celebrations of the day are being held, among the most interesting being that at George Washington university.

The principal speaker at the university was Governor Hughes, of New York. He has many admirers here, and there was a large gathering at the university to hear his address. The occasion was the winter convocation of the university. A reception was planned for the governor after the convocation.

Pittsburg, Feb. 22. — Councilman John F. Klein was convicted of having accepted a $17,500 bribe from officers of the German National bank, who desired their bank to be named a city depository. The jury was out but twenty-eight minutes. Klein's bail bond of $25,000 was renewed and notice was served that a new trial will be asked for.

LABOR TO HONOR WRIGHT

Noted Economist Will Be Buried From Old Home Wednesday.

Worcester, Mass., Feb. 22.—Labor organizations all over America are sending telegrams of condolence to the relatives of Carroll D. Wright, president of Clark college, and former United States commissioner of labor, who died in this city. The funeral of Dr. Wright, which will take place on Wednesday, will receive official recognition from every labor organization in the country.

It was Carroll D. Wright who did the lion's share in settling the Homestead strike, and also the strike in the anthracite coal regions. In both those great labor difficulties he was head of the commission which finally recommended an adjustment of the difficulties and a solution of the problems at stake.

In all probability Dr. Wright will be buried from his old home at Dunbarton, N. H. Official delegrations from the American Federation of Labor from Washington and from the New Hampshire National Guard will escort the body to the grave.

THE PRESIDENT'S HUNTING PLANS

Will Spend One Year in British East Africa.

Washington, Feb. 22. — Theodore Roosevelt, fifty years of age, having, on March 4, with his retirement as twenty-sixth president of the United States, completed over twenty-five years of public service, has decided to take rest and recreation in a two-year trip abroad, half of which will be spent in Africa under the British flag as a faunal naturalist, and the other half in Europe visiting at least three of the big capitals.

At the head of a scientific expedition outfitted by the Smithsonian institution, of Washington, he will, with his son, Kermit, and three American naturalists of note — Major Edgar A. Mearns, J. Loring Alden and Edmund Heller—make a collection of mammals, birds, reptiles, insects and botanical specimens of Central Africa, which will be deposited in the United States National museum at Washington.

The party leaves New York city about the middle of March, going by the Mediterranean route to Gibraltar and Naples. At Naples the members of the expedition will board a steamer for Kilindini harbor, Mombasa island.

They will arrive at the East African port toward the end of April, proceed by the Uganda railway to Nairobi, spend six months there, then continue by rail to Port Florence, Lake Victoria Nyanza, making a total distance of 584 miles by rail. The expedition will cross Uganda by caravan, and finally pass down the whole length of the Nile, reaching Khartoum about April, 1910. Much of the hunting and specimen collecting will be done in British East Africa.

On his return to Europe early in 1910, Mr. Roosevelt will deliver addresses in German at the Uniersity of Berlin; in French at the Sorbonne, in Paris, and in English at Oxford university.

TAFT IS MADE A KNOCKER AT SIGHT

Cincinnati Friends Give Him a Night of Fun.

MANY CLEVER STUNTS

Appropriately Costumed "Knockers" Representing Sixteen Foreign Nations Delivered Humorous Messages to the President-to-Be.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 20. — President Elect William H. Taft was made a Knocker "at sight." His initiation furnished entertainment for 100 prominent business and professional men of the city at the Knockers' annual dinner.

Cincinnati's Knockers organization's particular business is to knock hard and effectively everything tending to hinder the material advancement of the city and to originate and promote enterprises and undertakings for the city's welfare. Its annual dinners have become famous.

The spacious rooms of the Business Men's club were resplendent in draperies of flags and decorations of ferns and flowers. At each of the sixteen tables sat an appropriately costumed Knocker to represent one of sixteen foreign nations, and during the evening a message to the president-to-be was made known from each.

Emperor William's wireless message was announced to Mr. Taft as a kiss for each cheek and the hope that the senate would not find it necessary to reduce the presidential salary before the new president could get in. Miss Columbia got one of the kisses from the enthusiastic German.

Irish Cook From King Edward.

An Irish cook direct from the palace of King Edward was England's tribute, but the cook at once began to make terms. "Little Charlie" must not be boss of the White House and "Charlie P." must not live with his brother, were assured her before she would remain.

Any one of his fifty-seven varieties of wives was offered Mr. Taft by the representative of the sultan, but Uncle Sam would have none of this, rejecting the offer with the assertion that "one wife is enough to keep a man poor."

With hands upon Mr. Taft's cranium Persia's representative told the assembled Knockers of the thoughts passing through his brain, as follows:

"He is just now congratulating himself that he was made a Mason at sight—and so is the goat.

"He is now trying to discover some word to use instead of 'de-e-lighted.'

"He wishes he could find a caddy who wouldn't laugh when he makes a drive.

Played Sleeping Beauty.

"He is now recalling the days when he played 'the sleeping beauty' at Pike's Opera House and was kissed by the 'Prince Charming'—it was his first kiss—and then he acquired the habit of displaying his pearly teeth in a seraphic smile.

"He wonders whether a union cabinet maker ought to work eight hours a day.

"He wonders whether if the Filipinos had been cannibals he would have penetrated their interior.

"He resolves in the tariff war to lead the charge up to the very cannon's mouth."

The ceremony of making the guest of honor a Knocker "on sight" was conducted in total darkness, with rumblings of thunder and flashes of lightning, and concluded the festivities at table. The evolution of the Taft smile was afterwards depicted through moving pictures in the assembly hall of the club, through which the scenes of "notification day" were re-enacted.

CHOPS FATHER'S HEAD OFF

Indian Girl Severed Parent's Neck to Save His Soul.

Winnipeg, Feb. 20.—A weird tale of a young Indian girl slaying her father to save his soul from perdition has been brought in from the Lake Nipigou country. Returning home after a long hunting trip, an old Indian, named Zeabe, explained to his family that he had killed his best friend. Zeabe said that the homicide had taken place during a dispute over the possession of some fox skins.

The murder so preyed on the old Indian's mind that he was unable to rest or sleep. Believing that if he gave up his own life his soul would be saved, Zeabe asked several acquaintances to kill him, but they refused. Going to his own home, he placed an axe in the hands of his daughter and commanded her to kill him. She at first declined, but finally consented. After her father had said goodby the girl swung the axe with all her might, completely severing the neck from the body.

THE COOPER-SHARP TRIAL

Adjourns Until Tomorrow Owing to Absence of Witnesses.

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 19.—Absence of some state witnesses and a desire on the part of the defense to arrange its plan of procedure, caused an adjournment until tomorrow in the Cooper-Sharp trial for the murder of former Senator Edward W. Carmack. The state first announced that it rested its case in chief. When the defense asked until Saturday to prepare and the continuance was granted, Attorney General McCarn announced that some missing witnesses would be here by that time and that he would offer their testimony.

The state has satisfied itself with offering testimony to prove that Senator Carmack was slain in Nashville by Robin J. and Duncan B. Cooper; that John Sharp, when he heard the shots, knew what they were without looking around, and that prior to the killing several conferences had been held. This, the state contends, lays the foundation for proof of conspiracy. The state stops here and waits for the defense to offer its case.

OFF TO JOIN RETURNING FLEET

Two Cruisers Left Today to Meet Battleships.

Old Point Comfort, Va., Feb. 19.—The near approach of the battleship fleet and its escort signalled by wireless as less than 700 miles off the Virginia Capes, is reflected in the great crowds of visitors pouring into the hotels here. Many private houses in Phoebus and Hampton are to be thrown open to accommodate the overflow.

The tender Yankton sailed yesterday for Washington, and the big armored cruisers North Carolina and Montana left this morning to join the incoming squadrons.

The combined forces are expected to arrive at the southern drill grounds, fifty miles off the Virginia Capes, some time on Saturday. Minor evolutions and maneuvers will be gone through in order to fill the time intervening before the scheduled arrival on Monday morning next. The fleet will pass in the Capes about 10 a. m.

A majority of the members of both branches of congress are expected to come down to witness the arrival and review the fleet.

GIRL DEFENDED FATHER

Met Attack of Infuriated Cobbler and Downed Him.

Atlantic City, Feb. 19.—Undismayed by the fact that Joseph Jacobs, a powerful cobbler, mad with rage, was armed with a hammer, pretty Elizabeth Stornfield, twenty years old, grappled with the man and hurled him to the ground to save her father, Abraham Stornfield, from serious injury.

Stornfield is slight and was no match for the infuriated shoemaker. His daughter, while slight in build, is a trained athlete. She attacked her father's huge assailant and sent him reeling. Jacobs was later arrested.

Murdered Man's Body Found In Woods

New York, Feb. 19.—The body of a middle aged man of prosperous appearance and apparently an Italian, was found in the woods near Englewood, N. J. There were nine bullet wounds in the body, and the police investigators said the man had probably been lured to the scene and riddled with bullets by several men lying in ambush.

NEPHEW OF PRESIDENT KILLED

Stewart Robinson Fell From Window of Harvard Dormitory.

POLICEMAN FOUND BODY

Young Man Complained of Being Ill, and It Is Believed He Became Dizzy, Lost His Balance While Leaning Over Sill and Fell to the Pavement, Six Stories Below.

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 22.—Stewart Douglas Robinson, nineteen years old, a nephew of President Roosevelt and a sophomore of Harvard college, fell from a six-story window of Hampton hall, a dormitory on Massachusetts avenue, and was killed. He was a son of Douglas Robinson. The young man's mother is President Roosevelt's sister.

Robinson was with a party of fellow students Saturday night. Late in the evening he complained of not feeling well, and went to the apartments of his brother, Monroe Douglas Robinson, in Hampton hall, instead of going to his own rooms on Mount Auburn street. Monroe Robinson was not in his apartment, but Stewart Robinson had the freedom of the room and the party of friends accompanied him there.

It is understood that shortly after their arrival Young Robinson stumbled and fell in crossing the room and struck heavily on his forehead, receiving a painful injury. His friends say that they then put him into his brother's bed, and after raising the window of the bedroom a few inches in response to his request for more air, went away a short time later, leaving him apparently asleep. That was the last they heard of young Robinson until they were told that his body had been found upon the sidewalk.

It is believed that after his friends left him Stewart, feeling ill, got out of the bed and walked toward the window to open it wider. It is thought that as he leaned out over the sill he became dizzy and, losing his balance, fell out of the window, which is about four feet from the floor, to the pavement six stories below.

It is not known how long the body lay there. It was discovered by a policeman who, after notifying Medical Examiner Swan, had it removed to the Cambridge morgue. The body was then warm, but life was extinct.

An examination of the body showed that the skull was badly fractured and that both hips were broken. Medical Examiner Swan said that death was due to an accident.

NICHOLLS QUITS AS PRESIDENT

President Miners' District No. 1 Resigns Because of Illness.

Scranton, Pa., Feb. 20.—Congressman Thomas D. Nicholls resigned as president of district No. 1, United Mine Workers of America, an office he had filled for eleven years. Ill health is given as the reason. Notice of the resignation was forwarded to National President Lewis. Some here say that Nicholls' resignation will have an important bearing on the future of the organization in this field.

Mr. Nicholls' retirement was a surprise to most of the mine workers here.

Congressman Nicholls as president of district No. 1 was a prominent factor in the two great coal strikes of 1900 and 1902, and took part in all the negotiations before and subsequent to those suspensions of work. He was one of John Mitchell's advisers in matters pertaining to the anthracite mine workers and was a member of the miners committee which is about to ask for a new agreement between the miners and the operators.

Lock Haven Defeated.

In a game of Basket Ball in the Y. M. C. A. gym Friday night, Y. M. C. A. five completely outclassed the Lock Haven All. Collegians. Although the Lock Haven men were taller and heavier than the local men, the home boys managed by their dodging, quick passing and good shooting to run the score 52—12.

The Y. M. C. A. men are good players and if given any show can beat any team coming down the pike.

If a team was ever discouraged by a small crowd the Y. M. C. A. players were Friday night. Their expenses amounted to about twenty dollars and there was six dollars taken in at the door. Where are Bellefonte's sports? Who by their patronage to this teams games could bring them around in the right way to get back their title of Champions of Central Pa. for if it is anything that gives a team nerve to play it is a crowd of spectators.

The line up is as follows:

Lock Haven	position	Y. M. C. A.
Stehman	f	Lane
Stamback	f	Gamble, Wallace
Jones	c	Kirk, M. Walker
Bryerton	g	Barnes
McNeyney	g	I. Walker

We heard a man say the other morning that the abbreviation for February—Feb—means Freeze every body, and that man looked frozen in his ulster. It was apparent that he needed the kind of warmth that stays, the warmth that reaches from head to foot, all over the body. We could have told him from personal knowledge that Hood's Sarsaparille gives permanent warmth, it invigorates the blood and speeds it along through artery and vein, and really fits men and women, boys and girls, to enjoy cold weather and resist the attacks of disease. It gives the right kind of warmth, stimulates and strengthens at the same time, and all its benefits are lasting. There may be a suggestion in this for you.

—Don't fail to go to the skating rink tonight.

Against Target Rifle Shooters.

There is an ordinance in Bellefonte prohibiting the discharge of any firearm within the borough limits, and such ordinance should be enforced so far as the indiscreet and promiscuous shooting of target rifles by boys and young men is concerned. A lot of such shooting is being done in the borough right along and it is not only an annoying but a very dangerous practice as well. On Monday afternoon some boys on Curtin street were shooting a 22 calibre target rifle and the ball crashed through the window of the house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Gainsfort and buried itself in the wall in the opposite side of the room. Mrs. Gainsfort had been sitting at the window sewing and had gotten up not more than a minute before the shot was fired, thus narrowly escaping a bad injury and probably death, as the ball passed through the window about where her head would have been. Only a few weeks ago a spent ball from a target rifle struck a Curtin street lady in the eye but fortunately did her no material injury. Such promiscuous shooting is certainly to be condemned and the borough authorities should see that the ordinance prohibiting it is enforced.

BIG FLEET IS HOME AGAIN

Battleships Anchor Today in Hampton Roads.

WELCOMED BY THE PRESIDENT

He Reviews Homecoming Vessels on the Mayflower—Crowds on Excursion Boats Greet Sperry and His Men—Much Powder Burned In Saluting—Festivities Planned For Officers and Bluejackets.

Fort Monroe, Va., Feb. 22.—Our fleet is home again. Riding safely at anchor in the waters of Hampton Roads after a welcome such as never before warmed the hearts of returning sailormen are the sixteen "bully" vessels that have sailed around the world. It is impossible to resist the temptation to say that they look as "fit for a fight or a frolic" as they did when they sailed away from here more than fourteen months ago under the command of Admiral Evans.

When the Mayflower, bearing President Roosevelt and his invited guests, Secretary Newberry and others sailed down the harbor today the guns of Fort Monroe told the thousands of visitors to these shores that the welcome to the fleet would begin soon. Immediately the smoke began to rise from the stacks of the scores of excursion vessels chartered to bear the thousands of visitors out to sea to welcome the fleet. Turning their bows eastward, they steamed slowly after the Mayflower and took up their positions as near the presidential yacht as safety and the naval regulations would permit.

Saluting the President.

When the Mayflower reached the position selected for her off Thimble shoal light her anchor was cast and the party aboard prepared to await the coming of Admiral Sperry and his ships. Word was sent to the admiral that his commander in chief was waiting for him, and the Connecticut hoisted the signal for the fleet to follow the flagship in. Steaming at a fair rate, the Connecticut moved past the Mayflower, her guns booming out the presidential salute. The Mayflower responded, and the great naval review was on.

From that time until the last of the twenty-five returning warships had sailed past the Mayflower and paid its respects to the president in noise and smoke there was a continual roar of artillery that shook the Virginia hills and made conversation on the excursion boats a difficult task. The civilian vessels added to the din with sirens and whistles, amid which the cheers of the visiting thousands anxious to do their share in the noisy welcome was all but lost. It was a pandemonium such as was never before heard in this historic harbor.

While the fourteen vessels of Admiral Sperry's fleet that have made the circuit of the world, covering more than 42,000 miles since they left here in December, 1907, received the greatest amount of applause, the two battleships which joined the fleet on the Pacific coast and the vessels of Admiral Arnold's convoying squadron received their due share of attention. Probably the greatest amount of applause greeted the appearance of the Connecticut, which was the flagship of the fleet throughout the cruise, and the Nebraska, which made its first appearance on the Atlantic seaboard.

Twenty-five Warships In Line.

In reviewing the fleet the Mayflower occupied almost exictly the same position she did when the president bade godspeed to the sixteen battleships at the beginning of the cruise. The fleet which saluted him today, however, presented a more imposing appearance than the outbound armada. Then sixteen warships sailed south; today twenty-five war vessels, including twenty battleships, passed in review before the commander in chief.

When the last ship had passed the Mayflower the presidential yacht weighed anchor and turned to take up her position between the Connecticut and the Louisiana. Hardly had she cast anchor again when boats were cleared from the sides of the vessels of the fleet and Admiral Sperry and the commanders and executive officers of the ships were rowed to the Mayflower to pay their respects to the president. After these official calls were paid and the naval men had returned to their own vessels the president visited in turn the flagship of each division and met and greeted the assembled officers and the representative enlisted men sent to pay the respects of the jackies to him.

Tonight will be memorable in the history of Fort Monroe, Newport News and the surrounding towns. The focus of the receptions to the returning sailors will be in the Chamberlin hotel, where the Navy league will give a dinner to Admiral Sperry and his commanding officers. The dinner will be followed by a ball, and for several days there will be a round of gayeties here. Most of them, of course, will be reserved for the officers, but the enlisted men have not been forgotten. They will have a ball and reception of their own on Feb. 27 in the sail loft of the Norfolk navy yard.

BITES OFF HIS OWN TONGUE

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 22.—Stumbling and falling while at his play, George Thomas, the five-year-old son of Charles Thomas, 71 West End avenue, bit his tongue completely in half.

Doctors Charles J. Craythorn and Pierson W. Yard applied heroic treatment, stopped the flow of blood and sewed the bitten parts together. The stitching broke and for a while it was thought that the child would bleed to death.

He was hurriedly sent to McKinley hospital, where the flow of blood was again stopped. The lad is now reported out of danger, although extremely weak from loss of blood.

W. H. TAFT IS NOW A MASON

Leading Members of Seventeen States Were Present.

CEREMONY TOOK 35 MINUTES

President Elect Received Many Greetings as He Was Escorted From the Hall by the Committee Having His Initiation In Charge.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 199.—William H. Taft, president elect of the United States, is a Master Mason. The impressive ceremony which brought him that distinction was conducted by Charles S. Hoskinson, "the most worshipful grand master of the grand lodge of the most ancient and honorable fraternity of Free and Accepted Masons of the state of Ohio."

The highest Masonic authorities of seventeen states witnessed Mr. Taft's admission into the order, as did a body of men representing distinguished citizens of Cincinnati and the members of Kilwinning lodge, of which Alfonso Taft, father of the president elect, was a member, and in which Charles P. Taft was inducted under the auspices of his father.

Scottish Rite Cathedral, an ancient edifice devoted to the higher degrees of Masonry, was the scene of the ceremonies. Its main floor and gallery were well filled when the distinguished candidate arrived. The procedure, which culminated in the declaration that Mr. Taft was a Mason, occupied thirty-five minutes.

As a Mason, Mr. Taft's appreciation was of his father's character as such, and of his own regret that the delay had been so long in his own case, and a rejoicing that his brother, Charles P., who was present, had been made a Mason under the tutelage of Alfonso Taft. Mr. Taft received many greetings on a new plane of fellowship as he was escorted from the hall by the committee having in charge his initiation.

Mr. Taft will attend the dinner of the Knockers' club tonight, when he will hear Cincinnati "boosted." He will leave for Philadelphia tomorrow.

GEORGE WASHINGTON.

Thoughtless and unappreciative as Americans sometimes justly are accused of being, the great mass of our people do not abate their reverence for the fathers of the republic or their gratitude to them for their heroic services. It is as true today as when it was said originally that George Washington is first in the hearts of his countrymen. There is just as keen an interest in the study of his life and deeds now as there was a generation or so ago when it was possible to hear from the lips of living men who had known and seen him the story of his life and work.

Not all the mighty leaders of the people who have taken a large part in the progress of the United States sice Washington passed away in 1799 have overshadowed this majestic figure of the revolution and first president of a free people. The things he did in war and the policies he advocated in peace during the formative period of the nation are still the standards by which other men, facing new and possibly just as stern problems, adjust their conduct and their course. Statesmen still draw inspiration from his example and pattern their performance upon the precedents he established. Authors, students and romancers still search with zest for every scrap of writing or record that will add to the fund of information concerning his career, motives and principles. The literature of each succeeding year is enriched with some new contribution upon which to base judgement of his character and his labors, yet nothing that is found or written detracts from the luster of his imperishable fame or takes one cubit from his noble stature.

Thus Washington, in a peculiar sense, is the rich heritage of the passing generations of men in the United States. Probably no native-born American who ever studied anything—at least none who has fortified his mind by reading—has failed, at some time or another, to sit at the feet of Washington and learn something of his great gifts and splendid deeds. And so it is that Monday from ocean to ocean, the nation paid tribute to his undying memory, and throughout the length and breadth of the land the youth are told once more of what he was and accomplished in the long ago.

When you hear a man sneering at the local newspaper because it is not big, cheap and newsy as the city papers you can safely bet he does not squander any of his wealth in assisting to make it better, and that generally the paper has done more good for him than he has for it. The man who cannot see benefits arising from the local newspapers is about as much value to a town as a delinquent tax list

Reports just compiled at the general office of the Pennsylvania railroad show that during the year of 1908, 657 tresspassers were killed and 791 injured on the lines of the Pennsylvania system east and west of Pittsburg. For 1907, reports show 822 tresspassers killed. Thus during the past two years on the Pennsylvania system alone, 1,489 persons have lost their lives in this way.

WELCOME HOME!

The size and enthusiasm of the crowd that did receive the battleship fleet at Old Point Comfort Monday will show what the American people think of the world-girding achievement. The croaking chorus of the few noisy critics was drowned by the cheers of greeting Any growler who raises his raucous voice is due for a ducking. The nation is proud of all who participated in the cruise, from admiral to cabin boy, and it will have a reception committee of thousands to welcome them home. In his succinct summing up of the benefits from the cruise, Secretary Newberry mentions the increase in the prestige ard trade of our country and the valuable experience gained by officers and men. He might also have mentioned the part it has played n making for the peace of the world and particularly its effect in strengthening the friendly relations between this nation and Japan. Wherever the battleships touched they left a message of good will from the people of America and, in the words of a famous diplomat they were indeed "ambassadors of amity." It is true that the long and trying voyage rigorously tested the mettle of the men and the ships so that now we know what they can do in time of emergency, but this is not the most beneficial result of the trip. There are better reasons for the popular rejoicing.

Much good-natured fun has been poked at the prospective manner in which the sailor lads will celebrate their return home. An abounding conviviality not unconnected with the consumption of alcoholic beverage is popularly supposed to be a characteristic of the seaman, but the consistent record which the boys of the fleet have maintained throughout their cruise should disarm any fears of disorder at Old Point Comfort. Wherever they have touched the, American sailors have given the inhabitants a new conception of Jack ashore. They have had their frolic but they have refrained from the rowdyism commonly associated with the idea of seamen on shore leave, and have demonstrated that the American sailor is a gentleman. Here is additional cause for national pride today. Finally let us remember that the cruise has had more of hard work than of fun. We have heard only of the frolics. The officers and men have performed an arduous task with ability and cheerfulness an America bids them a hearty "Welcome home."

TO PROTECT MINERS.

The American Mining Congress is advocating Congressional enactment of a bill that is intended to save the lives of 3,000 miners a year by creating a Bureau of Mines to have supervision of the work. If a Bureau of Mines would save one life a year and it were possible to put that one man before the Senate of the United States it is hard to believe a single Senator would then be indifferent to this legislation. He might not vote for it; but he would demand to vote upon it. What, then, can be said when 350 times one man is killed in two months. When more than 3,000 are killed in a year. Only this—that Senators must be brought to realize by every means short of producing the men themselves that the nation cannot afford to lose five out of every thousand men employed in any industry.

Twenty States have indorsed the Huff-Bartlett-Wilson bill. The 300,000 members of the United Mine Workers have endorsed it. The owners of the mines have endorsed it. And the 1,000,000 men whose lives may be made more nearly secure have a right to demand its passage, and as reflected in practically every newspaper in the country, the great body of their neighbors have demanded it. The Senate Committee on Mines and Mining has endorsed it. All that remains, apparently, is that Senator Charles Dick of Ohio shall report the bill to the Senate. In the names of the 350 whose lives have already been lost while the Senate has waited, the nation looks to this chairman to act.

TALK OF BOND ISSUE.

The talk of a $50,000,000 state bond issue is again rife. The Harrisburg Telegraph says that doubt less the money could be used to good advantage, and it is a generally admitted fact that the bond issue is the most equitable method of financing permanent public improvements because it requires that the people of the future, who are to enjoy these imrovements, shall assist in paying the bill. Public debt is not regarded as discreditable to the average municipality, but rather as an evidence of progressiveness.

With regard to the State of Pennsylvania, it happens, however, that the Constitution forbids the creation of State debt except for emergencies, and then in amount exceeding $1,000,000.

To amend the Constitution requires at least three years, and nobody can forecast what the people who have the final say, would think of a $50.000,000 bond issue three years hence.

Probably if additional money is needed for public improvements it will be raised by levying tax on sources of possible State income now exempt. Even this, however, is not likely to be undertaken hastily. A radical change in the State tax system would probably be approved only after a thorough investigation of the subject by some such commission as is proposed in the Dunsmore bill, which provides for an inquiry and a report to the next Legislature.

To save the American elk from the fate which has overtaken the buffalo, an active campaign is being made by members of the B. P. O Elks to obtain at the present session of congress an appropriation of $20,000 for the creation of an elk preserve in the southeast corner of the Yellowstone National Park.

WOODMAN, SPARE THAT TREE.

What is the Effect of Excessive and Persistent Deforestation?

"What has been the effect of the tremendous consumption of timber upon our forests?" This question is often asked by people in various sections of the country, and often the information of the average man on the subject is not definite enough to enable him to make a clear and satisfactory answer. R. S. Kellogg, assistant forester, engaged upon statistics in the United States Forest Service, in giving a concise answer to the important question says:

"Now our annual requirements exceed 40,000,000,000 feet of timber, 100,000,000 cross-ties, 4,000,000 cords of pulp wood, besides great quantities of other forms of forest products, such as firewood, posts, poles, mine timbers, etc. The per capita consumption of lumber in the United States was 215 board feet in 1850; now it is 470 board feet.

"One forest region after another has been attacked. With the exception of Maine, the New England states are cutting mostly second or third growth timber. The box factories there take white pine saplings down to 6 inches in diameter. The so-called "inexhaustible" white pine forests of Michigan are gone, and millions of acres of cut-over and burned-over land have gone upon the delinquent tax list. Michigan supplies 13 per cent of the lumber production of the United States in 1880, and less than 5 per cent of it in 1907.

"The value of the lumber production in Michigan since 1849 has been 50 per cent greater than the output of gold in California and it has all taken place without a thought for the future. The cream of our hardwoods is gone, and it is becoming more and more difficult to get in sufficient quantity the high grade oak, yellow poplar, ash, and hickory that our great manufacturing industries require. The South's once great supply of yellow pine is rapidly giving way before axe and saw, fire and tornado. Half a generation more will, in most places, see little but remnants left of the Southern forests, and in that time the Pacific coast supplies will be heavily drawn upon.

"Ours is primarily a wood-using civilization. Despite the introduction of substitutes for wood in the form of stone, cement, concrete, and steel, our consumption of timber has constantly increased from the earliest days up to the present time. The prices of forest products have risen more rapidly than those of other commodities. According to the bureau of labor, the quoted prices of the leading kinds of lumber on the New York market have risen twice as much in the last ten years as the average increase in all commodities. This indicates that the supply of timber is not keeping pace with the demand."

A HOME WHERE PERUNA IS USED.

Residence of Mr. C. Hallock, Antwerp, Ohio.

MR. C. HALLOCK.

CATARRH OF THE HEAD.

Mr. C. Hallock, Antwerp, Ohio, writes: "My daughter, Allie, after taking three bottles of your Peruna, is entirely cured of catarrh of the head of two years standing.

"We have used Peruna as a general tonic, as well as for catarrh, and are well pleased with it, and recommend it to anybody who has catarrh.

"Anybody wishing any information can write to me."

Could Take No Food.

Mr. William F. Burke, 1365 Frankford Ave., Philadelphia, Pa., writes:

"On the 19th of February, 1901, I was taken with cramps that extended from just below my throat to the bottom of my stomach. They were so severe that my wife had to go for a doctor about two o'clock in the morning.

"I had from February until July of that year three doctors, and they were giving me medicine for kidney, liver and bladder troubles, and after taking all kinds of their mixtures, in the month of July I could neither eat nor drink. For three weeks I had not taken a morsel of food except in a liquid form. At the end of that time I could not drink milk or water except in small sips, which caused me great pain.

"I had given up all hope of living more than a week or two at most. I told my wife I thought I had catarrh of the stomach. She seemed to think so too, and having read of Peruna I decided to give it a trial.

"I took several doses that evening, and for the first time in weeks rested fairly that night.

"I kept on using Peruna as I had started, and after using it three days and nights the pains in my chest and stomach disappeared, and they have never appeared since, and it will be two years this July."

Pe-ru-na Relieved All Symptoms.

Mr. J. C. Crumpacker, R. R. 1, Kokomo, Ind., writes:

"I can say that I have nothing to complain of now. I feel well, rest well at night, have a good but moderate appetite, can eat almost any kind of food.

"I have no aches or pains anywhere, and can do some kind of work every day. I must say I can stand as much fatigue as I ever could, and feel good over it.

"The hemorrhage has yielded to Peruna, the grip has done the same, as well as pains and aches of all kinds.

"The roaring noise has entirely left my ears and head, my mind is clear, my recollection good, my bowels are regular, and I just simply feel easy all over.

"The cure of my case was surely a victory."

Catarrh of Long Standing.

Mr. C. A. Reustrom, 570 Seventh St., Ogden, Utah, writes: "I take great pleasure in stating to you that your medicine, Peruna, has completely cured me of a long-standing case of catarrh.

"I had consulted noted doctors without any relief. By persistent urging of a friend I commenced the use of your wonderful Peruna with the best of results, and today I highly recommend it to any one suffering from catarrh in any form.

"As for myself, I suffered untold agony, but today I feel as spry as any one, with more ambition and confidence in myself than I have enjoyed for years.

"All my friends say I look better than ever before, and I urge them all to try Peruna, and have sold dozens of bottles with the greatest of satisfaction.

"Your Peruna is the greatest tonic and builder for a broken-down constitution arising from that dreadful disease, catarrh."

Some people prefer to take tablets, rather than to take medicine in a fluid form. Such people can obtain Peruna tablets, which represent the medicinal ingredients of Peruna. Each tablet is equivalent to an average dose of Peruna.

The Badge of Honesty

Is on every wrapper of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery because a full list of the ingredients composing it is printed there in plain English. Forty years of experience has proven its superior worth as a blood purifier and invigorating tonic for the cure of stomach disorders and all liver ills. It builds up the run-down system as no other tonic can in which alcohol is used. The active medicinal principles of native roots such as Golden Seal and Queen's root, Stone and Mandrake root, Bloodroot and Black Cherrybark are extracted and preserved by the use of chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce at Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet which quotes extracts from well-recognized medical authorities such as Drs. Bartholow, King, Scudder, Coe, Ellingwood and a host of others, showing that these roots can be depended upon for their curative action in all weak states of the stomach, accompanied by indigestion or dyspepsia as well as in all bilious or liver complaints and in all "wasting diseases" where there is loss of flesh and gradual running down of the strength and system.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes rich, pure blood and so invigorates and regulates the stomach, liver and bowels, and, through them, the whole system. Thus all skin affections, blotches, pimples and eruptions as well as scrofulous swellings and old open running sores or ulcers are cured and healed. In treating old running sores, or ulcers, it is well to insure their healing to apply to them Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve. If your druggist don't happen to have this Salve in stock, send fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and a large box of the "All-Healing Salve" will reach you by return post.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

MINERS WILL BROOK NO INTERFERENCE

Board of Trade Rebuked For Urging Three-Year Agreement.

Scranton, Pa., Feb. 24.—The resolution adopted at the last meeting of the Scranton Board of Trade urging a three-year instead of a one-year agreement between the operators and the miners was sent by Secretary Edgar to President T. L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers, and the presidents of the coal carrying railroads. President W. H. Truesdale, of the Lackawanna, wrote at length, but "not for publication," saying in his letter among other things that the activities of the miners' union are in effect "the outrageous prostitution of a great industry." President T. L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers, writes resentfully of the board of trade's action, and intimates rather broadly that no interference will be tolerated from outside parties in the framing of the agreements. There were also some formal acknowledgments from other railroad presidents.

Steps to reinforce the ranks of the United Mine Workers of this district were taken here at a meeting of the district heads of the organization. It was decided to split district No. 1 into halves and to send union missionaries into each section to re-enroll as many miners as possible, that the miners may present an undivided front when they begin negotiations for a new working agreement with the operators in March.

U. S. COURT UPHOLDS ANTI-TRUST LAW

Arkansas Wins Suit Against Meat Packers.

Washington, Feb. 24.—In an opinion by Justice White the supreme court of the United States upheld the validity of the Arkansas anti-trust law of 1905, which provides a penalty of from $200 to $500 for each offense and the forfeiture of the right to do business in the state. The decision was handed down in the case of the Hammond Packing company, of Chicago (which it was charged had conspired with other packers to fix the price of meats) vs. the state of Arkansas. The case originated in the circuit court of Pulaski county, Arkansas, where a $10,000 fine was imposed.

The constitutionality of the law was attacked on the ground that it impairs the obligation of contract, denies equal protection under the law and stands in the way of due legal process. It was also contended that inasmuch as the packing company is an outside corporation, its offense, if it committed any, which is denied, was committed outside the state. It was also urged that the trial had been irregular in that there had not been a jury as required by the Arkansas constitution in criminal actions.

Justice White's decision was against the packing company on all of these points.

CENTRE COUNTY GRANGE

An Address Reviewing the Work the Grange has Done Among Farmers.

It is but just to the County Grange that an annual review should be made of the growth and achievements of the County Grange, so that the members of the order generally may comprehend the scope of work the Grange is doing and join it in celebrating its achievements.

We, as members of the order should intelligently understand the work the County Grange is doing for the benefit of the members of the order It was a great achievement of the Grange when it succeeded in bringing the farmers together and uniting them into local Granges, so as to enable them to act together for their common good. Then again to bring these local organizations together into the County Grange as one organization, through which the several local Granges are enabled to act together in a larger capacity to promote the best interests of the agricultural class of the entire county.

Through the instrumentality of the Grange many farmers have been brought forward and educated to fill useful positions in life, so that the County Grange has qualified men and women to intelligently fill any position to which they may be called in the Grange or before the public.

It must be said to the credit of the Grange that in pursuit of its work it has never been compelled to go outside of its membership for qualified persons to prepare the plans of the many business enterprises organized to promote the welfare of the farmers and the business interests of its membership. Indeed many of its members have become good writers, speakers and readers before the public. No school ever established in a rural community has done so much to intelligently educate the farmer and his family for the daily duties of life.

It is to be regretted that there are still some farmers who deprive themselves and their families of the educational advantages that the Grange affords to its members.

The County Pomona Grange was organized in Sept. 1875, and has continued in successful operation for nearly thirty-four years and has established numerous business enterprises in the interest of the farmer. The Grange Fire Ins. Company was organized in the spring of 1876, with an insurance of $206,000, and was incorporated by the state under the laws governing insurance companies. The plans for its government were drawn by its own membership, so that there is not a rule or law that has not been devised and perfected by the County Grange.

Its sole purpose is to insure the most humble as well as the most affluent member that has a home that the order has pledged itself to protect. The company has now been in active operation for thirty-three years and carries an insurance of $6,270,912.00 at an average cost of 21 cents per hundred dollars of actual insurance for thirty three years, which is twelve cents less per hundred dollars than the average cost in all mutual companies doing business in Pennsylvania for the same period, and from two to seven cents less per hundred than the average cost in all other companies doing business in Centre county for the same length of time. The average cost in all mutual companies doing business in Pennsylvania for the last year was forty-nine cents per hundred dollars of insurance.

Our company has paid to distressed patrons who lost their homes by fire since its organization in 1876, $159,445, 23. It is doubtful whether any other fraternal organization has contributed a larger amount for relief of its distressed memberahip during the same period of time.

Then again, the County Grange has organized its own Encampment and Fair Association, which was started as a one day picnic in 1874, and enlarged into a three day encampment in 1887, and was still further enlarged, in 1891, into not only an encampment, but into the Grange fair, the County Grange purchasing twenty-eight acres of land at Centre Hall which has been converted into a park. In starting this enterprise the County Grange had but $250 to back it up but by economic management and the united effort and loyal support of the membership throughout the county, the County Grange has been enabled to build up one of the finest fair grounds in the central part of Pennsylvania with convenient and attractive buildings, equipped with a complete outfit of over one hundred tents, without a single dollar of debt resting upon its property, and for the last two years has paid cash premiums for every meritorious article placed on exhibition. The County Grange has also helped to organize and capitalize other business enterprises in the interest of the order, besides holding stock in National Banks that are worth in the market $140 per share, and ten shares in Building and Loan Associations that are now worth $77 per share; it also holds shares of stock in fourteen branch telephone companies.

The County Grange organized the Patrons' Rural Telephone Company in the fall of 1905, which has now under its management fourteen branch companies, with an estimated paid up capital of $6 000 under an incorporated company with an authorized capital of $10 000, and has upwards of 250 phones in use on its lines, giving services to its members at from $5 to $7 less per instrument than that given by the old line companies all brought about in the short period of three years by the united and loyal support of the membership of the order.

Besides the business enterprises enumerated; there has been under consideration by the Grange the feasibility of organizing a co-operative Grange Bank, with other needed organizations, to help the farmer market his crops in a more economic and profitable way through associated effort and capitalization.

The foregoing are only a few of the successful achievements of the County Grange which, with all their prosperity and success, are not to be compared with the great fraternity it has built up among the farmers of Centre county, establishing confidence and good fellowship among the people of the rural communities.

Suggestive Questions on the Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Newspaper Bible Study Club.

The Gospel in Samaria.—Acts viii: 4-25.

Golden Text—The people with one accord gave heed unto those things which Philip spake, hearing and seeing the miracle which he did. Acts viii:6.

Verse 4.—What caused the "scattering abroad" of the Christian community?

Was the persecution of the church, headed by Saul, a blessing or a curse?

Was the persecution according to God's first best plan?

When God's first, or original, plan is upset by an evil, is there any evidence to show that he uses that very evil to bring about that which he had planned to accomplish another way? (See case of Joseph also of Jesus.)

Verse 5.—Who was Philip?

Should the church, to-day, utilize laymen more in preaching the gospel?

What did Philip preach at Samaria?

What do you understand by Philip preaching Christ?

Verses 6-7—How do you account for it, that the people turned to God with such unanimity?

Does the Holy Spirit always accompany the preaching of the gospel?

If Philip's congregation had been made up of 1909 ex-Sunday school scholars, would the result of his preaching have been different.

Verse 8.—What is the proof that Philip's converts were real, and what is the proof of the reality of every conversion?

Is joy a necessary accompaniment of conversion?

Verses 9 11—What is or what was sorcery?

Is there any evidence to believe that there are, or ever have been, persons with the power claimed by witches, conjurers, fortune tellers and similar fakirs?

Verse 12—Is it reasonable to believe that all who were baptized were genuine converts?

Verse 13.—What ever change may have come over him after, do you think Simon was really converted at this time?

What were then, and what are now, the conditions for the forgiveness of our sins, or conversion?

Verses 14-17—At the time of the "scattering abroad" did all the Apostles remain at Jerusalem?

What was the purpose of sending Peter and John to Samaria, seeing they had just had a great revival?

Did Peter and John pray that these young converts might receive the Holy Spirit?

Did all the converts in Apostolic days, receive the Holy Spirit after their conversion?

Why was not the Holy Spirit given to the converts at Samaria, when they were converted?

Is it the duty and privilege of every Christian to be conscious that the Holy Spirit dwells in him, and that he is Divinely guided in all things? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Verses 18 24—Are deceivers and tricksters apt to think that all others are like themselves?

Is it possible to obtain spiritual power with the purpose of making money out of it?

Is it possible that this Simon had been converted and that his love of fame, and of money, had led him to this evil?

Verse 25—What is the only hope of getting the world converted?

Lesson for Sunday March 17th 1909.—Philip and the Ethiopian. Acts viii: 26-40.

A puny child is always an anxiety to the parents. There seems generally no reason why the little one should be weak when it is so well fed. But the fact is that it does not matter how much food the child takes if the stomach cannot extract the nourishment from it. No benefit can berived from just eating. That is the condition of many a sickly child. The stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition are not doing their work, and the body is really starving. It is little use to give fish foods, like cod liver oil or emulsions, in such a case, because these also have to be digested. Strength is what the stomach needs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach, nourishes the nerves and increases the action of the blood-making glands. It is superior to every other preparation for childrens us, on account of its body-building qualities and also because it is pleasant to the taste and contains no alcohol. The virtues of native medicinal roots are extracted and their value enhanced by the use of triple-refined glycerine, which of itself, is a most valuable nutritive and promoter of digestion. We heard a man say the other morning that the abbreviation for February—Feb—means Freeze every body, and that man looked frozen in his ulster. It was apparent that he needed the kind of warmth that stays, the warmth that reaches from head to foot, all over the body. We could have told him from personal knowledge that Hood's Sarsaparille gives permanent warmth, it invigorates the blood and speeds it along through artery and vein, and really fits men and women, boys and girls, to enjoy cold weather and resist the attacks of disease. It gives the right kind of warmth, stimulates and strengthens at the same time, and all its benefits are lasting. There may be a suggestion in this for you.

SCHOOL CHILDREN IN WILD PANIC

Explosion Caused Mad Rush to Escape From Building.

Baltimore, Feb. 20.—Five hundred school children were thrown into a panic by an explosion in a gas stove in public school building No. 23, but although numbers of the pupils jumped from windows or were jammed together in doorways, no fatalities were reported and none of them was seriously hurt.

The structure was heated by means of gas stoves. Just how the explosion was caused could not be explained by any of the teachers, but it was thought some youngster had turned the gas on too freely. Thus, overloaded with gas and unable to consume it, the stove blew up with a roar that was heard for several blocks, and with a force that shook the building. For a moment the children sat stunned with fright, and then the mad rush developed. Persons attracted by the sound of the explosion rushed to the spot, to see children jumping from the windows and teachers endeavoring to restrain them. The children somehow seemed to alight in safety and were seized by their almost frantic mothers and borne away.

FINDS BABY IN BEER KEG

Woman Discovers Unknown Child Among Tenement Cats.

New York, Feb. 20.—Numerous cats infest the back yard of 33 Cherry street, but Mrs. Delia Grecco, the housekeeper, thought that she detected in the numerous cat cries a different note of distress. Mrs. Grecco notified the police and a policeman took the child to the station house, where a matron gave the child a warm bath, and, wrapping it in warm blankets, sent it to the Bellevue hospital.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.

If it's painful periods with women, same cause.

If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

CUT IN STEEL ANNOUNCED

Trust Will Give New Prices to Customers Direct.

AN "OPEN" MARKET DECLARED

Judge Gary Says Smaller Concerns Have Become Demoralized and Are Selling Their Products at Lower Prices, Which Caused Unreasonable Cutting—Declares It Necessary to Protect Their Customers.

New York, Feb. 20. — An "open" market in the iron and steel trade that manufacturers believe will lead to stimulation of the industry was created when former Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the directorate of the United States Steel corporation, made an official announcement that the "leading manufacturers of iron and steel have determined to protect their customers and, for the present sell at modified prices as may be necessary with respect of different commodities in order to retain their fair share of the business." The prices which may be determined upon will be given by the manufacturers to their customers direct.

E. H. GARY.

Chairman of the United States Steel Corporation.

The action of the leading manufacturers in effecting an opening of the market followed a series of conferences that have been held here for the last three days by Judge Gary and the heads of the various subsidiary companies of the steel corporation, together with officials of other steel manufacturing companies.

Judge Gary, in the official statement, says that the smaller steel manufacturing concerns, for one cause or another, particularly the tariff agitation, have become more or less excited and demoralized and have been selling their products below those prices generally maintained, and this led to unreasonable price cutting by certain manufacturers, who, though opposed to a change, felt the necessity of protecting their customers.

The first open cut made in steel prices since the general reduction of last June was announced by the Carnegie Steel company, which cut the price of steel bars to $1.20 a hundred pounds, equivalent to $4 a ton.

The Carnegie Steel company is one of the largest subsidiaries of the United States Steel corporation.

Pleas for support of the movement to evangelize the world, and especially the formerly "dark continent," will be made by the local pastors and by the visiting divines.

Most prominent among the city's Methodist visitors is Joseph C. Hartzell, missionary bishop, who will speak in the First Methodist Episcopal church of Evanston. INDICT LABOR CHIEFS; EXTORTION CHARGED

It is Alleged They Demanded Money to End Strikes.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Martin B. Madden, president of the Associated Building Trades of Chicago, and M. J. Boyle, business agent of the Electrical Workers' union, were indicted by a Cook county grand jury. Capiases were issued for the arrest of the men indicted and bonds were fixed at $5000.

Two separate indictments were found against each of the men. One charges extortion of $1000 from H. P. Nelson, of the Nelson Piano company, for the alleged calling off of a strike against the company, and the other charges the extortion from Joseph Klicka of $700 under similar circumstances.

The method said to have been used by Madden was to assess "fines" against certain persons for employing non-union labor and for other similar acts detrimental to labor unions. Unless the "fine" was paid, it is alleged, union officers would interfere with the business of the recalcitrant person until he finally paid the "fine."

At a conference between the lawyers and the prisoner, Christian, made a confession, which he later repeated to the judge in court. The judge accepted Christian's confession and imposed the death sentence.

BIG AUTO MEET BEGINS TODAY

Famous Drivers in Mardi Gras Carnival in New Orleans.

THREE DAYS OF TRACK RACING

Speed and Endurance Events on Crescent City Program — Strang, Robertson, De Palma, Schoeneck and Others Among Men Who Will Hold Wheels—Race For Women Enthusiasts One of the Most Popular Features.

New Orleans, Feb. 20.—For three days, beginning today, the New Orleans man, his "sisters and his cousins and his aunts" and the numerous strangers assembled within his gates to witness the Mardi Gras will be "speed mad." The automobile races, intended at first to be merely an incident of the Mardi Gras season, are now the first topic in public interest, even among the least sportily inclined of the city's people.

The promoters of the motor races declare that the speed carnival is the greatest in the history of the United States. It certainly deserves the palm in one respect, if in no other—that is, in the number of famous automobile racers gathered here to compete in the speed and endurance events. The roll call sounds like a list of the entrants in the famous automobile races of the past. Among the men who will hold the wheels in the flights over the splendid new track at the fair grounds are Strang, Robertson, De Palma, Mongini, Burman, Schoeneck and others who have won fame for daredevil work on the courses of Europe and America.

Race For Women Drivers.

One of the most interesting features of the races will be the speed contest for women, in which Mrs. Joan Newton Cuneo and Miss Alice Porter, two of the best known of America's women autoists, are entered. It is the first time that women have entered in a speed contest on a circular track, and the race will probably be one of the most popular events on the program.

Fred J. Wagner will start the races and will act as referee. He acted as starter for the Vanderbilt cup race and the Grand Prize race at Savannah and is well known among racing enthusiasts.

Speaking of the races, Homer George, secretary of the New Orleans Automobile club, the organization in charge of the contests, said:

"We have got together absolutely the greatest field of drivers ever corralled for a track meet. Besides, we are bringing the two wonderful women drivers of the world together, something that has never before been done on a circular track. The trade journals have run editorials protesting against allowing women to take such chances on a track with the high speed cars they are to use.

"The officers of the New Orleans Automobile club do not wish to appear boastful, but President Campbell has made it possible to present the positively greatest automobile carnival ever pulled off. Our meet will awaken the whole automobile sport and trade."

DRISCOLL DEFEATS ATTELL

English Featherweight Outpoints the World's Champion.

New York, Feb. 20.—Jem Driscoll, the English featherweight champion, and Abe Attell, of San Francisco, the holder of the world's championship in that class, met in a ten round bout at the National Athletic club, and Driscoll had a shade the better of the contest. The championship title was not involved in the articles governing the match.

It was one of the fastest and cleverest bouts ever seen in this city. Both men are very quick, but Attell seemed to have more steam behind his blows. Driscoll's left jabs were frequent, and he landed them in one-two and one-two-three fashion on Abe's face, raising a lump over Attell's right eye in the fifth round.

At infighting the American proved the better, sending in some hard body punches which staggered the British boxer.

Missing Man's Accounts Short.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 20.—A shortage amounting to $12,840 has been found, it is charged, in the accounts of Louis Devineau, former secretary of the city sinking fund commission, last heard of in Belgium. BANKER GUILTY OF BRIBERY

W. W. Ramsey Convicted of Giving $17,500 Bribe to Get City Deposits.

Pittsburg, Feb. 19.—W. W. Ramsey, former president of the German National bank, was found guilty as indicted in connection with the recent graft exposure.

Ramsey was accused of bribing Councilman John F. Klein by giving him $17,500, for which amount Klein was to secure the passage of an ordinance making the bank a depository for city funds.

Under the verdict the libellant is liable to a sentence of fourteen years and a fine of $22,000.

MAGNATES WILL GIVE PULLIAM A VACATION

National President Suffering From Nervous Strain.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Factional strife in the National league was removed at the closing session of the magnates when President Harry C. Pulliam was granted an indefinite leave of absence at his own request, in order that he may recover from the nervous strain to which he has been subjected for some time past. In the meantime his post as chief executive of the league will be filled by John A. Heydler, at present secretary and treasurer of the organization.

Mr. Pulliam remained away from the meeting because he was wearied of conflict with certain magnates.

In order to leave nothing lacking in the way of good feeling which marked the last of the meeting, President Charles Murphy, of the Chicago National league club, apologized in open meeting to President Ban Johnson, of the American league, who was present at the session upon invitation for the purpose of telling what he knew of the alleged attempted bribing of Umpires Klem and Johnstone during the championship series between the Chicago Nationals and the Detroit American league club.

Old McDowell Hall of St. John's College Destroyed by Fire.

Annapolis, Md., Feb. 22.—Fire gutted historic old McDowell Hall, the central building of the group composing St. John's college and about which cluster many of the most revered traditions of that ancient seat of learning. While the interior was completely destroyed, the massive walls, three feet thick and built of bricks brought from England, withstood the flames and will be used in the reconstruction of the building. The loss is estimated by officials of the college at $65,000, and the insurance is given as $25,000. The origin of the fire has not been determined, but it is thought that it may properly be charged to crossed electric wires.

Mob Charges on Greeks.

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 22.—After an afternoon and evening of rioting by 3000 men and boys bent on driving Greeks from South Omaha, the police quelled the disturbances after the mob had wrecked or burned more than thirty buildings and injured more than a score of persons, mostly Greeks. No loss of life occurred and all the injured will probably recover. The original cause of the trouble was the killing on Friday night of Policeman Edward Lowery by John Masuredes, a Greek, whom the officer had arrested.

The machine was ordered for early delivery and when he gets it Mr. Beezer will be able to accommodate parties desiring to take a trip to any point of interest. One More February Election.

Tuesday's election was probably the next to the last February election in Pennsylvania for some time to come, if not forever. The proposed amendments to the constitution, which will probably be adopted notwithstanding the election board snake uncovered by Rudolph Blankenburg last fall, will wipe out the February elections and, with them, the winter registration days and primary election. Under those amendments general elections are to be held the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of even-numbered years and municipal elections the corresponding day in each odd-numbered years. Only national and state officers are to be elected at general elections. All county, city, ward, township and other local officers are to be elected at the municipal elections.

The schedule which is part of the proposed amendments and which is designed to carry the new provisions into complete operation, provides that in 1910 "the municipal election shall be held on the third Tuesday of February, as heretofore." Officers then chosen for places the term of which is two years are to serve only until the first Monday of December 1911.

A child's throat cut from ear to ear with the flesh on both arms and part of the face eaten off by hogs, revealed according to the authorities, a brutal murder when the girls body was found along the West Liberty pike, fifteen miles northwest of Washington, Pa.

Constable J. A. Allshore who first discovered the body, was attracted to the spot of the activity of a drove of hogs near a culvert.

The county coroner's physician stated the body was of a girl nearly 3 years old and life had been extinct not more than twelve hours. The sheriff and posse of aroused citizens immediately procured bloodhounds from the federal prisons at Moundsville, W. A Native of Boalsburg Killed.

On Tuesday evening at five o'clock Edgar E. Austin was fatally injured at the East Tyrone engine house. While repairing an injector on a locomotive in company with other machinists it was found necessary to run the engine out of the building and just as the cab was passing a partition, Mr. Austin stuck his head out of the window and was caught between the engine cab and building. His nephew, Albert Austin, who was assisting his uncle in the work, jumped to the rescue but was not in time to pull the unfortunate man from the dangerous position. Mr. Austin was hastily conveyed on a special train to the surgery at the P. R. R. station where Dr. W. S. Musser, the company's surgeon, was summoned and everything was done to help the injured man, but it was soon seen he was beyond human aid. He lingered until twenty-five minutes past six o'clock when death relieved him of his sufferings.

Edgar Engels Austin was born at Boalsburg, October, 1861, and was aged 47 years. He moved with his parents when only a lad to McAlevys Fort, Huntingdon county, and in 1873 came to Tyrone where he has resided ever since. How Great Street Pageants are Created.

Very few people have any idea of the methods pursued and the great amount of work involved in the production of the street pageants which form the leading features of our city carnivals. In the current issue of Leslie's Weekly, George J. Jones describes in detail the manner in which the remarkable display during founders' week in Philadelphia was prepared for and made a success. A page of photographs adds to the interest of the story. The other illustrations include a front picture, drawn by M. Paddock, and representing women indulging in the pastime of skiing; photographs showing the delights of life on a modern ocean liner; many news, theatrical, and sport pictures; and the amateur photo prize contest. Colonel Robert H. Fuller author of "Government by the People," contributes a timely article on the now prominent issue of direct nominations; Harriet Quimby writes of the wonderful floating palaces of these luxurious times, Gilson Willetts presents the first instalment of a thrilling and remarkable detective story, while a readable article sets forth the attractions of Long Key, Fla., a fisherman's paradise. All the departments contain good matter and are up to the paper's usual high standard. "Jasper" takes an optimistic view of the business situation, and gives excellent and reliable advice for the guidance of persons who seek to make money in Wall Street.

To Weigh the Mails.

The various postmasters have received orders from the department at Washington, that beginning Tuesday and continuing until further notice, all incoming and outgoing mail must be weighed. On the mail trains between Lewisburg and Bellefonte, Warley Schoch and John Wagner both of Mifflinburg, have been assigned to assist the postal clerks on their run.

In Honor of Lincoln.

Lincoln freed men with the pen which proved mightier than the sword, demonstrating that our national differences can be settled without the shedding of innocent blood. The Trezuyulny home was decorated with Lincoln portraits, hunting and flags.
